

IN MEMORIAM.

RESPECTS TO THE MEMORY OF LUIS I. OF PORTUGAL.

According to announcement a solemn requiem mass was held at the Roman Catholic Cathedral Wednesday morning, as a memorial of the death of His Majesty the King of Portugal. The Right Reverend Bishop of Olinda officiated. A catafalque draped and studded with mourning emblems occupied a position opposite the altar. The choral service was rendered by a select choir and the Hawaiian Band under the leadership of Prof. Berger intoned several of the dirges.

The Right Reverend Bishop Hermann during the ceremonial, in full canonicals advanced to the altar and spoke, first in Portuguese and afterwards in English, in substance, as follows:

Your Majesties, your Royal Highness and ladies and gentlemen:

The present ceremony is essentially a religious act according to the faith of the deceased King of Portugal, who is the object of this memorial service. In order to bring him nearer to our mind everything is arranged as if the royal body were really present. The black ornaments of the church mourn at the death of the body, while the lighted candles symbolize the life of the immortal soul. All the prayers tend to implore the Divine mercy, if it should yet be needed, to give the departed soul eternal rest and the everlasting light in the heavenly glory.

It is true that death puts all human beings on the same level, all the vanities of the world are gone. At that hour a poor man of the lowest rank in society who has served God, is far superior to an emperor who has neglected the service of God. But we must leave the application of this to the judgment of God alone. It has been the constant practice of all nations to bestow, after death, exceptional honors on those who have held a distinguished position during their life. For this reason we honor the memory of King Luiz, because he was a King who, by the Providence of God, was called to rule over a large kingdom. He was a representative of Divine authority on earth, for, there is no power which does not come from God, the only source of all authority.

The name of Luiz the First will not be recorded in history with the doubtful glory of a great warrior or of a successful conqueror of new possessions. His glory rather consists in having been a pacific King, who has transmitted the Kingdom to his son, as he had received it from his brother 28 years ago. During his whole reign he has preserved peace within and from without his far extended Kingdom. He is not responsible for any bloodshed. He has benefited many, and perhaps not willfully done harm to anybody. Let us hope that he has been received with mercy by the God of peace.

A large and notable gathering attended the funeral ceremonies including: Their Majesties; H. R. H. Prince Luitpold; Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, their Excellencies the Ministers of His Majesty; diplomatic representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Portugal, Japan and China; members of the consular corps of the United States, Great Britain, Germany and Austria, Belgium, Sweden and Norway, Spain, Italy, Denmark, Peru, China and Japan; Rear Admiral Kimberly and members of his staff; officers of the U. S. S. Mohican, Iroquois and Alert, and of H. B. M. S. Espiegle, and a large number of the most prominent members of the bar and banking, commercial and business community and representatives of the Advertiser and Bulletin.

At a few minutes past 11 o'clock the services were brought to a close the parting benediction being echoed by the dispersing multitude "requiescat in pace."

THE NEW SPECKELS SUGAR REFINERY AT PHILADELPHIA.

The great Speckels' sugar refinery, the magnitude of which, as it now stands, is excelled by few, if any other, establishments of the kind in the world is to be duplicated. This important announcement, which presages the addition to Philadelphia's numerous and extensive industries of what, it is said, will be the largest and most wonderful sugar refinery in existence, was made to a Public Ledger representative.

The public buildings, which are nearing completion, will be finished, according to the expectations of the contractor, by the first of September, and immediately thereafter work will be commenced on the new works, which are to be almost an exact counterpart of those now standing. When these duplicate buildings are finished and the whole refinery is in operation, their producing capacity, as stated by Mr. Watson, will be 4,000,000 pounds of sugar per day, necessitating the employment of 1,000 men. Mr. Speckels estimated that the duplicate works, when completed and in operation, would represent a total investment on plant alone between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

The ground, owned by Mr. Claus Speckels, extends from Reed to Dickinson street, and from the Delaware river to Meadow street, along which the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad are laid. For three squares from the river to Meadow street, along the south side of Reed street, there is a continuous line of refinery buildings, towering to a great height. Greatest of all the separate buildings is the filter house, a fire proof iron and brick building, 325 feet long, 68 feet wide and 140 feet high. The pan house is of equal height, 157 feet long and 62 feet wide, and the finishing house, which is 75 feet high, is 84 feet long and 110 feet wide. The boiler house is a wonderful building of its kind, being 260 feet long, 65 feet wide, and 86 feet high. It is also a fire proof structure, and the capacity of its boilers will be 8,000 horse power.

The warehouse is an eight story, iron, brick and lumber building, 155 feet long and 69 feet wide, and the bag filter house is 170 feet long and 80 feet wide. The latter is 70 feet high or 10 feet higher than the barrel factory, the dimensions of which on the ground space are 265 by 135 feet. The other structures include:

an office building 64 by 36 feet, which is three stories high, and the repair shops, which extend up to a height of 50 feet and cover a space 120 long by 50 feet wide.

There are three wharves in front of the refinery buildings and these run out into the river 400 or 500 feet. There is also a great dock-shed two stories high, which extends 450 feet in length and is 80 feet wide. This building is of lumber, iron and corrugated iron.

The completion of these great works in one year, for the beginning was about the middle of last August, is regarded by all who have been watching their progress as an unparalleled operation.

All of the work that has been done, however, has been under the personal supervision of Mr. Charles Watson, the Chief Engineer of Mr. Speckels, and his general manager of construction. Mr. Watson has been with Mr. Speckels for a quarter of a century having associated himself with the great sugar refiner when he started in business in a small way in California.

Mr. Rorke, the contractor, stated yesterday that the actual contract cost of constructing the best buildings, independently of machinery, would be about $1,500,000. The machinery alone, it is said, will cost an enormous sum of money. All the latest improvements have been introduced, and no better sugar manufacturing plant is said to exist.

HOW TO HAVE A PRETTY WIFE.

An Admirable Elixir for use by Husbands.

If you want your wife to remain pretty, be good to her. You can tell by the lines in a married woman's face how she is used at home, just as you can tell the age of a tree by the number of circles in a section of its trunk.

No feminine mouth gets thin-lipped and drawn down at the corners of it is kissed often enough. The man who gets out of the front door with a bang, after kicking the dog, threatening to drown the kittens, and cuffing his little boy for daring to be "A little faithful copy of his sire" in temper, is responsible for the big wrinkles between his wife's eyes.

Lots of grey hairs come from sitting up into the wee sma' hours, peeping out of an upper window, with a shawl over the head, listening to distant howls, and feeling sure that "he" had been murdered for his watch and Alaska diamond pin at last, as the watching wife always expected he would be. A man who stays out late only when he takes his wife with him, never need to give her money for hair regenerators.

Old maids may be fresh and rosy; at least they have peace and quiet and no bother; but if a woman has a husband who doesn't suit her—who snaps and snarls, and snubs and growls, and treats her as though she were a steward whom he suspected of defalcation—she will look as harassed as she feels; her nose will grow sharp, and crows' feet will come prematurely. She will have the disappointed air that is attributed to spinsters, but which is really possessed by wives whose spouses are not what they ought to be by any means. And between you and me, if you will only make love to your wife, and stay at home, with an air of liking it, when you are well and not only when you feel sick and are obliged to do so, she will think you perfection, consider all your mistakes misfortunes, and will not believe you have a fault in the world. Moreover, as you tell her she is pretty, she will remain so; and if she thinks you admire her, she will be careful to dress herself becomingly—which, with a woman, is half the battle.

Love your wife; be true to her; let her know that you admire her, and let her have the pride of feeling that her friends know it also, and she will alter so slowly in her looks that you will never know she changes at all. Love is the greatest beautifier in the world, and to be loved is the elixir of life. M. K. D.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary shakings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Cholera, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Menstritis, &c.

From Sykes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Strand, January 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhoea and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's Chlorodyne. Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Sykes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chaplains.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1884.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1/2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine except the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

BEFORE AND SINCE

The days of Samson a luxuriant growth of hair has been symbolical of man's strength and woman's beauty. As a means of preserving this adornment of the person—a duty which should be considered, by all, of the first importance—Ayer's Hair Vigor is unequalled. If, unfortunately, your hair has been neglected and allowed to lose its lustre and color, or if time has tinged it with gray, the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore its youthful appearance and vitality. This admirable preparation eradicates

Dandruff, cures all diseases of the scalp, strengthens weak hair, promotes a Luxuriant Growth, and prevents baldness. It is, moreover, an excellent dressing for the hair, rendering it pliant, soft, and glossy, and as an article of the toilet, there is nothing more essential or agreeable.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is choicely perfumed, is colorless, and will not soil the whitest pocket-handkerchief; its beautifying effects are lasting, and it is, therefore, the best and most economical hair-dressing in the world.
